

CCH Training and Consulting for Corporate Professionals

Your company has choices when it comes to training. CCH is prepared to offer the most comprehensive solutions to meet your business challenges.

CCH has assembled a highly-skilled and experienced team of consultants to support your transition to a more efficient office. This team is designed to help you get the most out of your CCH solutions so that you can maximize productivity and increase efficiency.

Benefit from the experience of CCH's consultants through focused courses designed to help your staff meet their professional needs and take advantage of the latest information and technology available.

CCH consultants have worked with thousands of businesses and CPA firms to develop the best methods for teaching your staff how to effectively use your new products. Taking your experience to the next level, our expert consultants are also available to ensure that your company retains your efficient processes while improving your workflow. You'll gain useful insights on industry best practices and practical advice on streamlining your processes by taking advantage of CCH's Training & Consulting opportunities.

Course Formats

Choose the course format that best suits your department's needs. CCH has a variety of training formats available that will get you up and running in no time, helping you train new users, implement new applications and learn how to leverage advanced product functionality.

Single-client Training Sessions (On-site)

In this one-on-one training format, your staff will have the opportunity to interact live with a consultant to cover course material. This is the best choice for a company that would like training conducted on-site at the office.

Single-client Training Sessions (Web-based)

This is one-on-one online training for your company, in which your staff will have the opportunity to interact live with a consultant to cover course material. Follow along as a CCH consultant shares his or her desktop with you.

Multi-client Training Sessions (MTS)

The MTS is a cost-effective, web-based training solution for CCH products. Follow along as the consultant shares his or her desktop with you. Hearing the questions and comments from other attendees is an additional benefit.

"CCH was so good at training our team, we asked them to come back the next year to give us an update session on the software."

— Kim Roddy, Tax Director
